

MY DRUM LESSONS

Tyler Duffield talks about setting up with 'My Drum Lessons'

“I have wanted to teach drums for some time now and was not sure how or where to start running my own drums teaching business.

I was offered a lifeline from My Drum Lessons who gave me all the help, support, information and materials I required. These included posters, a website, business cards, a CRB check, lessons to teach and accounting software to start myself off with the minimum of financial outlay and fuss.

My Drum Lessons showed me how to set up a room in my home as a teaching studio and assisted with all of the health and safety aspects involved in doing so. They recommended the best way to register as a sole trader to make me a legitimate business with the tax office.

The guide that I received was very in-depth in all aspects of becoming a teacher. It assisted in many areas including how to properly market myself and how to tell anyone who would be interested in drum lessons that I was now available to teach them. I soon began to obtain results.

I work from home doing a job I love, I'm my own boss, earning a good living, what more can I say! I should have done it sooner but was unsure of what to do, and of course I could not have done it without the backing from My Drum Lessons”.
